

Faubus Declares Face Facts, Asks Tax Free Bonds

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus today called for Arkansas to "face the facts of life" as he plugged for proposed authorization of tax-free bonds to lure industry to the state.

In a speech prepared for delivery to the special session of the Legislature, Faubus declared that "we must be competitive with our sister states in this matter of industrial financing or else we will find the plant relocations and expansions from other sections of the nation going in increasing numbers to the states which do provide this type of financing."

The proposal for tax-free revenue bonds was disclosed by Faubus in announcing last week that he would call the Legislature into session today to ask for laws to bolster the state's industrial financing.

The Legislature met at 11 a.m. with the Faubus speech set for noon.

The prepared text left dangling one question—whether Faubus wanted the Legislature to approve five million dollars or only two millions as the maximum amount of the proposed tax-free bonds the state might own at any one time.

The governor said originally he would recommend a two-million-dollar maximum.

But late yesterday State Sen. Jack V. Clark of Texarkana said, after a conference with Faubus, that the governor had agreed to up the limit to five million dollars.

This was in the nature of a compromise with Clark, who had urged a five million dollar appropriation for the First Arkansas Development Finance Corp., a state authorized but privately organized group which assists in financing industry.

Despite the Clark statement, the Faubus text as given to newsmen used the figure two million dollars in at least two places.

And Faubus said specifically he had rejected a proposal that an appropriation be recommended for First Arkansas.

Freezing Wind Follows Snow Across U. S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A far-ranging snowstorm that developed over the Texas-Oklahoma Panhandle over the weekend, dumped heavy falls in many areas.

Northerly winds, trailing the storm, powered cold Canadian air southward from the Rockies across broad areas eastward. It was far below zero in sections of the Rockies.

The Weather Bureau in Boston warned of heavy snow in southern New Hampshire and southern and central Maine, with falls of 4 to 8 inches in most areas and up to 10 inches along the Maine coast. Fairly heavy snow was reported in eastern New York.

Sleet and freezing rain pelted southern New England, making driving hazardous.

A fast moving coastal storm centered near southern Cape Cod during the early morning dumped 2 to 6 inches of snow from Massachusetts northward into southern Vermont and New Hampshire and southwestern Maine.

The snow belt extended from western New York into lower Michigan but westward the snow diminished considerably, with light falls in the upper and middle Mississippi Valley. Snow flurries continued in the Ohio Valley, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Tennessee and West Virginia. Light showers sprinkled areas from Connecticut southward through Virginia. Some fog also was reported.

The storm was blamed for at least 18 deaths, including seven in Nebraska, five in Colorado, four in Illinois and one each in Texas and Wisconsin.

She will direct a force of 15 crew leaders and 250 census takers in the following counties: Polk, Montgomery, Sevier, Howard, Pike, Clark, Little River, Hempstead, Nevada, Ouachita, Calhoun, Bradley, Ashley, Union, Columbia Lafayette and Miller.

Woman Freed of Murder Sentence

ROME, Ga. (AP)—After spending a third of her life in jail, Bertha Gossett Hill, 41, was ordered acquitted Monday of charges that she murdered her husband, a mechanic, with poison.

Mrs. Hill was first convicted of killing Leroy Hill with arsenic in 1946 and sentenced to death. She won a new trial, but was convicted again and given a life sentence the following year.

Mrs. Hill was confined at state prison until August 1959 when she was returned to Rome and ordered to file an extraordinary motion for a new trial.

Basis for the motion were affidavits of three members of the last trial jury that they had not voted for conviction. A third trial was granted. The Georgia Supreme Court denied an attempt by the state to block the trial. The prosecutor said the state was unable to prosecute a third time because it could not locate needed witnesses.

State Shivers in Clutch of Icy Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arkansas shivered in the clutch of winter today, and no immediate relief was in sight.

Sub-freezing temperatures were reported across the state this morning, with light snow at Fayetteville.

A state low of 13 degrees was registered at Fayetteville early today. Other minimum readings included 16 at El Dorado, 19 at Fort Smith, 21 at Walnut Ridge, 24 at El Dorado and Pine Bluff and 25 at Little Rock and Texarkana.

The weatherman did not expect temperatures to get above the middle 30s anywhere in the state today. And tonight's lows are due to plunge as low as 10 degrees in northwest Arkansas.

Elsewhere tonight, lows are expected to range from the teens in the northeast portion to the mid 20s in the south.

Continued cold weather is in the outlook through tomorrow. Other northwest Arkansas points, besides Fayetteville, had some light snow during the night. Flurries also were reported at Fort Smith and El Dorado.

Field Archery Club to Be Organized

There will be a chili supper at 7:30 Wednesday night at the Woodman Hall for the purpose of forming a Field Archery Club for this area.

Recently, in a meeting at the Ben Pearson Archery plant at Pine Bluff an Arkansas State Field Archery Assn. was formed, with several local archers as charter members. This state association plans to hold tournaments at various ranges around the state in the spring. Hope, being one of the 14 cities in the state to have a range will be the site of a spring tournament.

The local club will be to foster interest in Field Archery among local people. Archery, being at this time the fastest growing sport in America is certainly an interesting and exciting sport for all ages.

Field Archery is especially a challenge to the prospective archer as he may shoot at many different distances over every type of terrain at faces of varying size. The Field Archery shooting is almost identical to actual hunting conditions.

After the chili supper, the group will see a film on Lion hunting with the bow and arrow, discuss various archery tactics and attempt to formally organize a local club.

Archers interested in attending this meeting should contact Charles Gough or Faye James immediately so that plans can be made to accommodate those attending. This club will be for men and women, boys or girls.

City Directors Purchase a Fire Truck

The Board of City Directors at their regular meeting on Monday night awarded bids to provide the Fire Department with a new 750 gallon per minute fire truck.

The bid was awarded to the Howe Fire Apparatus Company of Anderson, Ind. on a low bid of $14,000 for the equipment mounted on a chassis furnished by the city to be bought through a local dealer.

Bid for the chassis was awarded to Young Chevrolet Company for $4,033.65. The total of the two bids being $18,033.65. However, due to adjustments for items included in both bids which will not be necessary and adjustment in freight charges, the total cost to the city for the new fire truck will be about 14,800.

The fire truck will be paid for with $15,000 the Water and Light Department received from the sale of stock in the Shanhouse building. The Water and Light Commission had announced several months ago when the Shanhouse Co. agreed to purchase the outstanding stock in the building that the money would be made available to the city for this purpose. Delivery of the fire truck is expected during the month of May.

Fred McElroy and Allan Stuart appeared before the Board for a discussion of signs set inside the right-of-way. At request from the Police Department, they had removed the signs which were considered to be hazardous or objectionable from the Texaco station on West 3rd and Pine and wanted to ascertain what the policy was going to be.

The Board explained that the police would request the removal of any signs in the right of way which are considered objectionable or hazardous and that the rule would be applied to all locations throughout the city in a manner that would be fair to everyone. It was explained that no one has a legal right to place advertising signs inside the street right of way; but by local custom, persons have been allowed to place signs in the right of way where the Police Department did not regard them as in any way interfering with the public's right to use the right of way.

Judge U. G. Garrett and a group serving as a county building committee for a public health center appeared to request city participation in such a project. The committee, headed by Ralph Lehman as chairman, Judge Garrett explained that federal funds were available on a 2 to 1 basis for the construction of a health center and equipping the building, but that no matching money was available for building site, parking areas, etc.

The group estimated that such a health center could be built for about $80,000 which would require local funds in the amount of $20,000. They presented a request that the city join the county in providing this $20,000 on a 50-50 basis. The project received the unanimous approval of the Board of Directors, and they promised to have a definite answer on the availability of funds within the next month.

Federal funds are now available for the project if it receives local support, and there was some feeling that this might be the last opportunity to get federal aid on this type of project since the Hill-Burton Act under which this is authorized expires July 1.

50 Persons Killed in Crash of Big Capital Airliner in Virginia

Arkansas Group Wants Additions to Water Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arkansas members of Congress said today several additions should be made to President Eisenhower's otherwise fairly generous budget recommendations for water projects in the state.

The president proposed appropriations of $32,711,000 for construction and $781,000 for planning of Army Engineer projects in Arkansas during the year starting July 1. In addition, he proposed more than 6 million dollars for lower Mississippi projects largely in Arkansas.

But Reps. W. P. Norrell and J. W. Trimble said the five million dollars recommended for emergency bank stabilization on the Arkansas River is insufficient.

Trimble said he had hoped for 10 million dollars while Norrell said that in addition to the emergency program he thought 10 million should be approved for permanent bank stabilization on the proposed navigation channel along the lower Arkansas.

"Now that Army Engineers have settled that the navigation channel is to follow the river course in eastern Arkansas," Norrell said, "it is time to get started on the program. I am disappointed the President didn't allow at least 10 million dollars for this phase."

Otherwise, he said, the budget recommendations generally were satisfactory to him.

Rep. Orin Harris said he was disappointed at lack of any recommendation for the proposed big Millwood Dam in southwestern Arkansas, for which planning is about complete.

He said he plans to seek $500,000 to acquire the dam site and to build preliminary roads.

Harris said he is pleased at the recommendation for $300,000 to continue planning on the DeGray reservoir and $100,000 to start planning on Gilliam Reservoir.

Trimble expressed satisfaction at the recommendation of $2,650,000 to continue construction on Beaver Dam. He added he had hoped for a budget request for planning funds for the proposed Ozark Dam on the Arkansas River below Fort Smith. This is one of the Arkansas River navigation projects.

Rep. Wilbur Mills was pleased at the $14,149,000 asked for Greers Ferry reservoir. This amount, he said, would be sufficient to get construction rolling in a substantial way.

Rep. E. C. Gathings said he was happy at the request of $4,600,000 for the St. Francis basin flood control project—one of the lower Mississippi projects.

"We've been creeping along with two and three million dollars a year," he said, "I'm happy to see Continued on Page Three

Court Martial of Civilians Is Ruled Out

By PAUL M. YOST

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court has ruled out peacetime court-martial trials for civilians abroad, but has gone out of its way to offer suggestions how the military might handle the resulting situation.

In divided decisions Monday, the high tribunal overturned military convictions of three civilian employees and a civilian dependent who accompanied armed forces overseas.

Justice Tom C. Clark, author of three majority opinions, said such military trials violated the constitutional right to trial by jury. This right applies to everyone except members of the armed forces.

Clark recalled that in 1957 the court declared unconstitutional the military trial convictions of two women accused of killing their servicemen husbands abroad. These were capital cases, involving possible death penalties.

Monday's decisions broadened the 1957 legal holding to include civilian dependents of servicemen and employees of the military regardless of the nature of the offenses.

One Army official, emphasizing the problem, said the number of civilian dependents and employees abroad equals or is greater than the number of men in uniform. The Justice Department, during argument of the cases, told the Supreme Court the civilians abroad commit a substantial number of offenses and create serious disciplinary problems.

Clark said one plan to meet the problem would be to incorporate civilian employees directly into the armed services, either by compulsory induction or by voluntary enlistment.

46 Passengers, Crew of 4 Meet Flaming Death

By MARSHALL JOHNSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLDCROFT, Va. (AP)—A Norfolk-bound airliner groined or rattled through dense fog then plunged into a swampy ravine near here late Monday night. Fifty persons died in the flaming wreckage.

The crash of the Capital Airlines prop-jet, Viscount, was the nation's worst air disaster in nearly a year and the worst in Virginia history.

It wasn't until nearly 8 a.m.—more than nine hours after the big four-engine plane dropped nearly straight down into the muddy ground—that rescue workers could enter the cooling wreckage in search of the 46 passengers and 4 crew members.

The first body was brought out at 7:50 a.m. and by 9:15 a.m. searchers, crawling through the tangle on hands and knees, had emerged with six stretchers.

"Have you ever seen an old shed that's been set on fire and fallen down with the fire on top of it?" asked John Pincason Jr., a Richmond fire battalion chief who drove the 30 miles to offer assistance. "That's what it looked like."

"I would say absolutely there was no chance for anyone to get out of it."

Among the victims were Mrs. Eugene Gilbert, 25, of New York City, a partner with her husband in youth research work; Albert W. Rust, 59; and Charles A. Truhn Jr., 42, Ford Motor Co. executives at Louisville, Ky., and the wife and stepson of a pilot for another airline, Mary Blanche O'Connell and Troy Woodall, Durham, N.C.

The plane, Capital Flight 20, was on route from Chicago to Norfolk via Washington. It left Washington at 6:45 p.m. and the pilot, Capt. James B. Forness, 50, a veteran of almost 20 years of airline flying, made a routine radio check with the Norfolk tower while over Tappahannock. He was due at Norfolk at 10:30 p.m. Then at 10:20 p.m. farmer Robert H. Teneh heard the plane circling over his home, 50 miles northwest of Norfolk.

It made one pass overhead, too low, Teneh thought, but "not to reverse." Then a minute or so later, "long enough to read a few sentences in my book," it came over again. This time the house shook.

"The third time he came over, the motors were wide open. Then she hit. The noise just stopped. When I heard the engines stop, then I figured he'd gone into the river."

Marine's Wife and Daughter Aboard Plane

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Marine William Robinson shuffled stiffly down the long hall leading out of Norfolk's Municipal Airport.

He reached a corner, stopped and turned to his friend, Marine Kenneth Lyons.

"My God, Zin," Robinson sobbed. He buried his face in his hands.

His wife and 6-month-old daughter were among the 46 passengers and four crew members who died in the flaming crash of a Norfolk-bound Capital Airlines Viscount near Hatteras Monday night.

Robinson and Lyons were among a dozen relatives and friends who waited fearfully for news of the overdue plane.

The airliner was to touch down here at 10:30 p.m. It fell and burst into flames near the Chockmahy River in Charles City County 30 miles southeast of Richmond just before 10 p.m.

It was 1 a.m. before Capital officials began breaking the news nervously, gently.

Some wept. Others took it in shocked silence.

By 1:30 the ordeal was over for James Riddelle, customer service manager for Capital, and other Capital officials.

But for those who waited tragedy was only beginning.

Stratford Moss seemed to keep himself under control. His wife was on the plane.

Mrs. D. A. Hunter learned at 1:15 a.m. that her mother-in-law, Ida Hunter, was among the dead. She broke into tears. Dr. T. C. Royer, called to the airport by Capital officials, went to her side.

Relatives and friends waited nervously in a partitioned room. Some smoked, some drank coffee.

One woman sat by herself, looking out the window at the airport lights and twisting her hands in attitudes of prayer.

Relatives and friends were taken to a second-story dining room. Separately, they were told of the tragedy.

Says Rights Bill Would Up Number Voters

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.) said today a bill to protect voting rights might more than double the number of registered Negro voters in the South.

In prepared testimony, Javits urged the Senate Rules Committee to approve his bill—one of four generally similar measures to authorize federal registrars in areas where state or local officials refuse to register qualified voters.

Javits told the committee such legislation "is clearly constitutional" and needed.

President Eisenhower said last week he does not know whether it would be constitutional, but he thought it proper for Congress to study it.

Opening testimony yesterday by Robert G. Storey, vice chairman of the Civil Rights Commission, ran into a deluge of criticism from Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. (D-N.C.). The commission first advanced the federal registrar idea.

Storey told the committee "present denial of the right to vote on grounds of racial discrimination is an evil which promptly can be cured by forthright and direct action," by Congress.

Ervin said the registrar bill would violate constitutional rights given to states and would deny rights given state and local officials under constitutional guarantees of the due process of law.

Ervin said he was afraid federal registrars would be "carpet bag registrars." He thus touched on an ancient fear of Southerners stemming from the hated Northern opportunists who invaded the defeated South after the Civil War. They are nicknamed for the carpet bags they often carried.

Retired Admiral Wars With Birds

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Vice Adm. Raymond J. Mauerman (USN, Ret.) is at war with the birds.

Mauerman is deputy commissioner of public property.

Recently he hung wartime surplus submarine nets on the city's courtyard entrances to keep thousands of pigeons from flying in.

But the admiral lost his battle with the pigeons. Like everybody else, they now walk into the courtyard entrances.

Mauerman turned his attention to the thousands of starlings which roost above the city hall courtyard at dusk. They perch around a sixth-floor ledge and make a massive nuisance of themselves.

Monday Mauerman launched a campaign with his own secret weapon — noise.

He sent two assistants to the eighth-floor roof with a shotgun filled with blank ammunition. They fired away for about 15 minutes. The sound boomed over Penn Square.

The starlings swooped off in a body. When it was all over, they swooped back.

The only casualties were the operators at the municipal switchboard and alarmed citizens who phoned in wanting to know what was going on.

Increase Offered Striking Janitors

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — The Board of Education Monday night offered a wage increase of $200 annually to janitors and matrons who strike Monday and closed most public schools here.

The board offer of a 5 per cent raise matched the pre-strike demand of Local 110 of the Public School Employees Union. But the board's offer wouldn't become effective until July 1, start of the next fiscal year. The janitors earn from $3,001 to $5,621. Wage scales for matrons range from $2,000 to $3,312.

Business agent George Luelkenholder said the union executive board would probably take no stand on the proposal leaving it up to a vote of the membership.

The 412 strikers walked off this job at 6:30 a.m. Monday, creating a holiday for some 80,700 pupils, 78,250 of them grade school students.

Martha Hairston Circle No. 1 of First Baptist Church Meets

The Martha Hairston Circle No. 1 of the First Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. Mary Jaeger and Mrs. Aurie Huntley, Monday afternoon at 8:00. The meeting opened with prayer by Mrs. Jim James. An interesting program was given on "Reaching Rural Churches" and was presented by four members of the Circle in the way of a skit, representing the leaders of the Association and their work.

Delicious refreshments of cake and coffee was served to nine members and one visitor, Mrs. Homer Boyerly, President of the W. M. U.

Open House Held at Country Club for Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Tooley. Open House for Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Tooley was held on Saturday evening, January 16 at the Hope Country Club. Host couples were Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Duffie D. Booth, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Franks, Mr. and Mrs. Bin McRae, Judge and Mrs. James Pilkinton, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Seamans.

Maroon, white, and pink were the colors used to decorate the clubhouse where the party was held. Greenery and maroon candles were on the mantle, and a bouquet of narcissus was at another vantage point. The serving table was overlaid with a pink cloth caught at several points by maroon bows of ribbon. The centerpiece was a silver epergne holding maroon tapers, dubonnet carnations, white and maroon ribbons.

Dispensing hospitality and assisting in serving cookies, punch, and coffee to the guests were Misses Betty Bryant, Mary Gail McRae, Suzanne Booth, Sandra Gaines, Penny Franks, Tina Pilkinton and Joan Reinhardt.

Miss Nancy Tooley was the guest of honor at a dance held at the Hope Country Club following the Open House. Those entertaining at the dance were Misses Bryant, Booth, Franks, McRae, Pilkinton, and Mike Seamans. Cookies and punch were served buffet style during the dancing hours.

U. S., Japan Sign Formal Partner Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Japan today signed a treaty formally raising Japan, once a defeated, U.S.-occupied World War II enemy, to the status of an equal partner in U.S.-Japanese relations.

With President Eisenhower in attendance, Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi signed for Japan and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter for the United States in a historic ceremony at the White House.

Appropriately for historians, the signings took place in the East Room of the executive mansion — the same room where President James Buchanan received "the first Japanese envoy when Japan resumed contact with the outside world 100 years ago.

The new defense treaty is similar in many ways to pacts America has signed with 41 other free world allies.

America recognizes that an armed attack on Japan "would be dangerous to its own peace and safety" and promises to "act to meet the common danger."

Japan cannot pledge reciprocity to help defend U.S. territory in case of attack because her U.S.-sponsored constitutional provision renouncing war is interpreted as barring her from sending troops outside Japan.

But Japan grants use of land, air and naval bases in Japan by U.S. forces without time limit.

The two countries agree to consult "whenever the security of Japan or international peace and security in the Far East is threatened." They also promise to collaborate economically and to settle any disputes between them by peaceful means.

The treaty will last at least 10 years. After that either nation must give a year's notice before canceling.

The new permanent treaty, accompanied by eight side agreements dealing with specific matters, replaces a temporary 1951 treaty which was negotiated while meeting. Mrs. Ester Montgomery will be in charge of the program on "How to Ward Off Nervous Strain."

Mrs. Benjamin Carroll Hyatt

The marriage of Miss Sarah Elizabeth Helms and Dr. Benjamin Carroll Hyatt was solemnized Friday night, January 15, in the chapel of the First Methodist Church in North Little Rock before a background of white gladioli, greenery, and branched candelabra holding lighted tapers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Warren Helms of North Little Rock, and the bride groom is the son of Mrs. Benjamin Carroll Hyatt of Hope and the late Mr. Hyatt.

Dr. Henry W. Goodloe performed the double-ring ceremony, assisted by Rev. Robert Hyatt of Oakland, Tenn., brother of the bridegroom. Miss Josephine Egner presented the nuptial music and accompanied Richard Oliver as he sang "Because." The traditional wedding marches were used.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length dress of white wool jersey with blue accessories. Her only ornament was an heirloom necklace. She carried a white Bible, topped with staphenotis, centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. George A. Jones, matron of honor, was attired in a pale blue sheath dress and wore a corsage of pink carnations. Charles Hyatt, of Monroe, La., served his brother as best man. Groomsman were George Frazier of Hope, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; Dr. Edward McCollum of Decatur; Dr. Keith Earley and Dr. Steve Finch, both of Little Rock.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Helms was attired in blue with matching accessories. Mrs. Hyatt, mother of the bridegroom, chose a frock of mauve with blending accessories. Each pinned an orchid corsage at her shoulder.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the foyer of the church. The bride's table was centered with an arrangement of white gladioli and white carnations. Assisting were Mrs. George Frazier of Hope, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. William M. Helms of Pine Bluff; Mrs. Warren Helms and Miss Patricia Bass of North Little Rock. Miss Rosemary McHenry of Columbia, Tenn., was in charge of the guest book.

After a wedding trip to Chicago, the couple will be at home in Beaumont, Tex., where Dr. Hyatt is house physician on the staff of Beaumont Municipal Hospital.

Trying to Link Two Plane Crashes

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Authorities are investigating a report that Julian A. Frank, suspect in the Jan. 6 airliner bombing, knew a man under suspicion in a Nov. 18 crash.

The crashes, both of National Airlines planes, took a total of 76 lives.

Charles S. Collar, Civil Aeronautics Board examiner in Miami, called the acquaintanceship of Frank and Dr. Robert Spear of Dallas, Tex., "a little too strong to be called just a coincidence."

He said "We will certainly look into the connection."

Collar commented after Los Angeles Asst. Dist. Atty. Julian Blodgett told of a statement by Dr. Donald A. Loomis, a Los Angeles chiropractor.

Loomis was quoted as saying Dr. Spear, 64, wanted Loomis to agree to hiring Frank, 32, of New York, as their counsel in an aviation conspiracy case.

Spear ostensibly died in the Nov. 18 crash in the Gulf of Mexico. Frank presumably died in the Jan. 6 crash at Bolingbrook. Loomis was quoted as saying he wouldn't be surprised if Spear or Frank still live and had a connection with both crashes.

Japan was still disarmed under U.S. occupation.

Washington in turn is faced with what it sees as the threat by Japan, the industrialized leader of Asia, to cast its lot permanently with the West instead of taking a neutral or pro-Communist course.

Mary Ruth Calhoun

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Mary Ruth Calhoun to Charles Wallace Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Martin of Hope, is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace J. Calhoun of Washington. Both Miss Calhoun and Mr. Martin are graduates of Hope High School. The couple will be married March 26 in Washington Baptist Church, Washington, Arkansas.

Chessman's Lawyer Plans Next Move

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A new petition for a writ of habeas corpus appears the next legal move in the Carl Chessman's 11-year fight to cancel his date with set for Feb. 19.

This was indicated Monday by his attorney, George T. Davis, after U.S. Dist. Judge Louis F. Goodman denied a motion to set aside the convict-author's execution date.

Davis had contended the Feb. 19 date was invalid on grounds a Los Angeles Superior Court, which set it, lacked jurisdiction.

He argued that a stay granted by Judge Goodman in 1955 "remains in force."

Goodman ruled that his previous order "has long since been superseded by decisions of the the bodies of the victims—46 passengers and a crew of four.

Capital reported two of the victims were infants.

The first charred body was removed from the plane at 7:50 a.m. It appeared that few would be identifiable. Police indicated a seat plan of the flight would be used to discover which passenger was in each seat and that the seats would then be tagged to assist in identification.

A crash truck parked near the still smoldering ruins and ambulances stood by to carry bodies to a hospital in Richmond, where the more difficult aspects of identification would be turned over to a medical examiner.

HOLDCROFT, Va. (AP) — A Capital Airlines plane, frantically circling at house-top height in a blinding fog, crashed on a marshland hilltop near here Monday night, carrying 50 persons to flaming death.

Early today, rescuers still had not been able to get close enough to the white-hot wreckage to remove the bodies of the victims—46 passengers and a crew of four.

All but five of the passengers had boarded the plane at Washington for the relatively short hop to Norfolk. These five, continuing through from Chicago, had switched planes at Washington to finish their trip.

DOROTHY DIX

Rejected Suitor
Threatens Girl

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I need help quick. A boy I don't like says if he can't have me no one else can. He threatens my boy friend. As a result I refuse to go out with the boy I love. I don't want him hurt, we're all unhappy. What can I do? — Real Worried

Dear Real Worried:

Ordinarily I would say: "Forget the bully. It's probably just kid stuff." But, in view of present-day gang wars, the situation could be serious. If you've not already told your boy friend and parents, do so at once. Had you included your name and address, this reply would have gone to you by special delivery.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I am 14 years old and ashamed of my family. My brother is nine and my father 40. When we sit down to dinner, my brother sits on his knees in his chair. When there is a bit of trifle on meat, he picks the meat up in his fingers, and chews around the gristle. When I ask my mother to speak to him, she tells me to mind my own business, that his table manners are basically good. Every time I try to reprimand him I get a kick in the leg. I have tried many ways to solve this problem by mocking him (in a courteous way, of course). When we're out dining, I try to pretend that I am not with them. Then my father asks if I am ashamed of them. When I say yes, he flies off the handle and says I have no family pride. I could never go for outside help because this is my life. "The Family Sicks Together."

Please help me! This is urgent because my school-family dinner is coming up in January and I don't want to be disgraced.

NEW YORK (AP)—Wilt Chamberlain, the 7-foot-1 Philadelphia Warrior rookie, has the Kansas City Basketball Assn. scoring race all to himself today.

He leads in total points and game average, taking over the former from Cincinnati's Jack Twyman. Wilt the Stilt has scored 1,544 points in 41 games for a 37.6 average, according to NBA statistics.

Twyman has a 31.3 mark on 1,536 points in 49 games. He had topped the NBA until Chamberlain took over after games of last Sunday.

Across The Counter

W. E. White, Jr.

"Do you know the greatest cause of auto accidents?" a friend asked me one day.

"No," I admitted.

"People!" he replied.

And, he's right. According to the official statistics, 85% of highway accidents occur to reasonable, responsible people with good driving records, and chiefly on dry pavement, with good visibility, and on straight roads!

The other 15% occur to a relatively small 3% or 4% of the population. Only 10% of drivers are accident-prone.

A recent study reveals that many drivers travel too close to the vehicle ahead. The average driver requires about seven-tenths second to react to a situation requiring sudden braking. At 45 miles per hour, this is approximately THREE car lengths. And, the distance grows greater as the speed increases.

In the same traffic study it was pointed out that too much emphasis is placed on the death rate. This, of course, is frightfully high. Nevertheless, for EVERY death, there are 125 injuries — many involving permanent disability. These cases are in some respects even more pathetic.

NOW, during the early weeks of the New Year, let's resolve to make this the safest year on the road our State's ever had!

A psychologist recently observed: "A man drives as he lives. Let's live safely — and SAFELY!"

Oddities of Past Year in Baseball

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The year 1959 was the one in which the Yankees lost the pennant. Harvey Haddix pitched a perfect game and lost. Joe Gordon lost and then became his job as manager of the Cleveland Indians.

Baltimore pitcher Hoyt Wilhelm was chased from the mound by a warning of goats in Chicago and Bill Voisard claimed he had "em" framed to attack opposing pitchers.

A spectator sneaked into a sports car in Sebring, Fla. and made several laps before being ejected by officials.

Which one was the outstanding "oddy?"

The question was put to sports writers and broadcasters in the annual Associated Press poll and the majority voted for Haddix' perfect losing game.

Forty-eight of the 95 participants cast their ballot for the Haddix-Milwaukee game of May 28. "The Yankees' demise was caused on 10 ballots. The Gordon-Frank Leone loss received 9 votes followed by Wilhelm and goats at the Dodger's winning the National League pennant 5 and Jugarmay Johnson's victory over Floyd Patterson, 4.

Haddix retired 36 Braves' hitters in succession in his brilliant, but ill-fated effort. Then, in the last of the 9th, Felix Mantilla became the first batter to reach base against the Pittsburgh southpaw when he was safe on third. Center Don Hook's throwing error.

11 Matthews sacrificed Mantilla to home. Hank Aaron was inadvertently walked and Joe Adcock followed with a home run. Adcock scored Aaron in the base line and was only credited with a "hit." So, it went into the books as a 1-0 defeat for Haddix.

Continental Loop Franchise Brighter

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The possibility of a Continental League baseball franchise for this city appeared brighter today with harmony apparently restored among club leaders.

The appointment Monday of Reginald E. Taylor, the moneyman in the Buffalo baseball picture, as chairman of a new franchise committee stemmed from rumors of a disagreement. He was appointed at a meeting of the club's executive committee.

Taylor had said it was his understanding he was to be named chairman of the board of directors. John Stiglmeier, president of the club, said no such position existed.

Welfare Rolls Gain 14,800 Names

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Department officials have attributed an increase in Arkansas welfare recipients to seasonal unemployment.

A report released yesterday showed that welfare rolls gained 14,800 names in December. The report showed 172,650 persons got $392,413 worth of surplus commodities in December and that 137,850 got $456,324 worth in November.

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Some 50,000 American and South Korean troops are taking part in one of the largest field exercises held in Korea since the Korean war. An Army spokesman said the five-day exercise was to train the troops in counterattacking enemy forces under atomic war conditions.

TOKYO (AP) — Leading Japanese critics today named the American movie "Twelve Angry Men" the best foreign film shown in Japan in 1959. For the best Japanese film of 1959, the critics chose "Kiku and Issamu," a story of Japanese orphans fathered by GI's during the occupation and abandoned by their mothers.

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — The emergency alert for all South Korean armed forces was lifted today, 38 days after it was imposed in connection with the mass migration of Korean residents from Japan to Communist North Korea. A U.N. Communist spokesman said orders to U.S. and other U.N. troops to remain in their posts, issued after the Korean alert was proclaimed, had not been officially lifted.

OTTAWA (AP) — Prime Minister John Diefenbaker says his government will insist on controlling the use of any American nuclear warheads stored in Canada.

The Prime Minister gave this assurance to Parliament Monday night after opposition leader, Lester B. Pearson declared the United States should not have special custody over any weapons in possession of Canada's armed forces.

Diefenbaker said negotiations are under way with the United States to arm Canadian forces with American nuclear weapons.

LONDON (AP) — A Soviet broadcaster today called President Eisenhower's new budget a disappointment because it made no cut in military allocations.

"This comes at a time when the Soviet Union once again slashes its military spending," said Moscow radio.

Despite the widely trumpeted Soviet claims, the demobilization announced by Premier Nikita Khrushchev last week will by Soviet admission bring the Soviet armed forces down to only a little less than America's.

BERLIN (AP) — West Berlin police are holding a 21-year-old man they say offered to supply a Nazi youth group with arms from Communist East Germany.

Authorities identified him as Wolfgang Solondz, member of the Nazi-type Federation of National Youth, one of two such groups outlawed in Berlin last week. They said they are checking on his connection with the Communists.

Solondz said Solondz, who lives in West Berlin, offered federation members "cheap sporting rifles" from Stbl. in Communist-ruled Thuringia.

The first official U. S. flag was adopted by resolution of the Continental Congress on June 14, 1777.

The public debt of the United States was little more than a billion dollars in 1913. It was more than 276 billion in 1958.

Barber Takes Top Money in Yorba Meet

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Yorba Linda Open pressure golf game lingered on today as the tournament gympies headed north for Bing Crosby's annual Clam bake on the Monterey Peninsula.

Leading the Crosbyville-bound procession was Jerry Barber of Los Angeles, winner in a dramatic win of the inaugural $20,000 Yorba Linda Open late Monday.

Seldom has a gallery been treated to such theatrics as the final threesome of the day came up to the 18th and decisive hole.

A pressure putt of 13 feet for a birdie 4 that brought victory to Barber—a stroke that kept the affair from going into a sudden-death playoff.

A sensational 50-yard shot by Billy Maxwell for an eagle 3 and undisputed possession of second place.

A birdie that brought Julius Boros a tie for sixth place.

And certain death for the hopes of Harry Weetman of England.

The veteran British Ryder Cup player, who with four holes to go was all even with pace-setting Barber, faded to a par 7 and a tie for third with Tom Niepoorte of Bronxville, N.Y.

Barber went into the round with a three-shot lead over Weetman and four over Maxwell.

Weetman finished in a three-some just ahead of Barber, Maxwell and Boros.

Maxwell led loose with his tremendous 8-iron shot from an angle off the green. The ball took one hop and a run into the cup.

Barber pitched up. He had to make the putt.

"It looked more like 50 feet than what it was," Barber said later.

Feels Indians Have Chance for 1960 Flag

By JOE GORDON

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — When a club finished a very good second as the Cleveland Indians did in 1959, the manager must certainly approach the next season in terms of hoping to win the pennant.

With Vito Power at first, Temple at second, Woody Held at short and Phillips at third, we have just as good a chance as any other club.

Our picture is brightened by the improved infield defense. Now, if our young pitchers should improve at the normal rate you might expect of them, we certainly should have an exciting and interesting summer.

I am delighted with the changes we have made. The acquisition of a star of Johnny Temple's calibre and the addition of Bubba Phillips settles the infield problem that bothered us so much last year.

With Vito Power at first, Temple at second, Woody Held at short and Phillips at third, we have the best infield in the league. Tito Francona in left field and Rocky Colavito in right seem definite fixtures and either Jim Pier-sall or Carroll Hardy will be in center. It's possible Tito may not repeat his .363 average of last year but I honestly feel he did adjust his swing to the point where he now is a dangerous hitter, always able to hit well over .300.

Colavito hit 42 home runs and drove in 111 runs last year, following an equally productive year in '58. This indicates to me he will be among the majors' premier hitters for several seasons to come. Both Pier-sall and Hardy are top-flight fielders. The one who shows me the best hitting will win the job. Chuck Tanner and Don Dillard, a powerful left-handed hitter with great potential, are my outfield reserves.

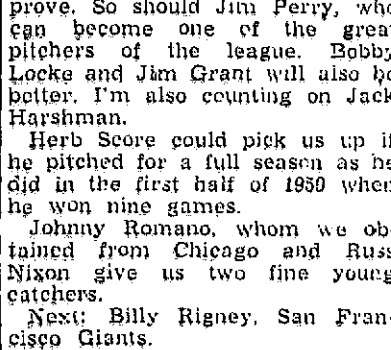

Many folks think we might be somewhat thin in pitching, now that Cal McLish is gone. There's no doubt we will miss Cal but I think our young pitchers will pick up the slack. Gary Bell who won 18 last year after winning 12 the year before should continue to improve. So should Jim Perry, who can become one of the great pitchers of the league. Bobby Locke and Jim Grant will also be better. I'm also counting on Jack Harshman.

Herb Score could pick us up if he pitched for a full season as he did in the first half of 1959 when he won nine games.

Johnny Romano, whom we obtained from Chicago and Russ Nixon give us two fine young catchers.

Next: Billy Rigney, San Francisco Giants.

Defense Says U. S. Ahead of Russia

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department has told Congress the United States is militarily ahead of the Soviet Union and far exceeds the Russians in ability to deliver nuclear weapons on an enemy target.

This rosy defense picture was given last week to the House Appropriations Committee by Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates and Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Their revised and censored closed-door testimony was made public today by the committee.

The testimony prompted Rep. George H. Mahon (D-Tex.), chairman of the defense appropriations subcommittee, to remark that "this is the most enthusiastic and rosy and reassuring presentation that we have ever had."

While cautioning against complacency, both Gates and Twining criticized what Twining called a tendency "to degrade the capabilities of the American people and the peoples of the free world" and to picture in glowing terms the efforts of the Communist bloc.

In coming summit negotiations, Twining said, "we want to deal from strength. We have terrific strength in the military and in our country."

Twining said he believes the possibility of an all-out nuclear war with the Soviet Union is "very, very slim."

Gates said "there is nothing to justify a belief that the Soviets will make substantive concessions which will reduce our security requirements." On the contrary, he added, the Soviet Union is increasing its military capabilities, particularly in the missile delivery field.

"But the impression in some quarters that the Soviet Union has overtaken or even outdistanced the United States in military power is simply not supported by the facts," he declared.

"Manned bombers are still, for both ourselves and the U.S.S.R., the primary means of delivering heavy nuclear weapons in the volume and with the accuracy needed to strike a decisive blow. In this category the United States far exceeds the U.S.S.R. We have several times more intercontinental jet bombers and more medium and heavy bombers. We are well ahead of the U.S.S.R. in air-to-air refueling capabilities, air-to-surface missile development, and other important air warfare techniques."

The Hempstead County farmers showed increased profits in 1959 by following the latest approved practices in cotton insect control.

In evaluating work on cotton insect control methods spearheaded by farm and home development cooperators in 1959 some gratifying results were noted. Other farmers took advantage of the previous information derived from demonstrations, meetings and economic data worked up for their benefit to show that it was necessary and also more profitable to change from their previous meth-

Why the Budget's So Big---(1) Government Rock Gathering

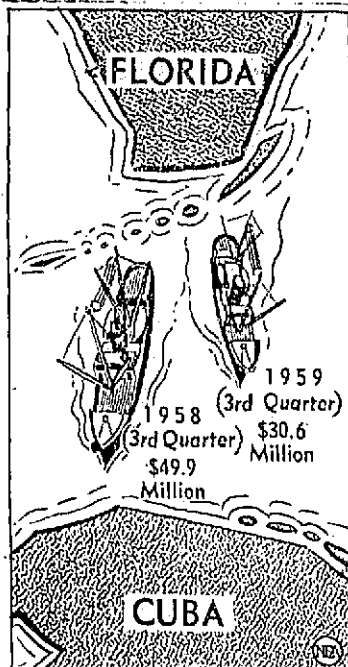

The U.S. Budget must not only cover current running expenses but pay installments on yesterday's and tomorrow's debts...

"Everybody wants to get into the act" might be one way of describing the cause of today's burgeoning federal budget. We legislate benefits, services and subsidies up to the hilt—and then hang onto them. According to Budget Director Maurice H. Stans, the government is so saddled with meeting yesterday's priorities that it cannot anticipate tomorrow's needs as it should.

Built-in increases in programs are another factor. For 1961 alone, they will add another $2 billion or more to the budget, even without passing another spending bill. Sketch above depicts the present plight of this government of the people, by the people and more and more for the people.

NEXT: The President's Perplexity

CUBAN CUT—Premier Fidel Castro's campaign to reduce Cuba's dependence on the United States is making headway, as sketch above shows. Cuba is still this country's largest Latin-American customer for farm products, but in the third quarter of 1959 exports to Cuba ran 39 per cent below the like period in 1958.

Chancellor Files for Re-election

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Chancellor Ernie Wright of Harrison County filed for renomination in the 11th Chancery District at this summer's Democratic primary.

The district includes Baxter, Boone, Marion, Newton, Seaway and Van Buren counties.

Other filings with the Secretary of State's office included: W. J. Hurst of Rector, a former state senator, for the state senatorial post now held by Sen. M. A. West of Paragould. This is the 23rd senatorial district and includes Clay and Greene counties. West has not said whether he will seek renomination.

Don T. Sprick of Little Rock for Position No. 3 in the 15th Senatorial District, Pulaski County. Sprick who seeks the position left vacant by the death of Artie Gregory of North Little Rock last year and had announced earlier that he would file.

Negro Man Dies in House Fire

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—A 78-year-old Negro, M. Brooks, burned to death today in a wind-whipped fire which destroyed a five-room frame house.

The Negro was trapped in a rear bedroom, trying to get out of a window. Nine others escaped as the fire, whipped by a 24-mile-an-hour wind, raced through the house.

The Negro man lived with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt Thompson, Mrs. Thompson and the eight Thompson children managed to get out of the house. Thompson was away at work at the time.

Pea Ridge Park Funds in Budget

WASHINGTON (AP)—An $11,000 congressional appropriation for personnel to supervise construction at the proposed Pea Ridge National Park in Benton County, Ark., is included in President Eisenhower's new budget.

The bulk of the construction money for the Civil War battle-ground park was in an appropriation last year. The National Park Service estimates $1,500,000 will be used at Pea Ridge. It is expected to be finished by 1962.

Faubus' Dad Thinks Son Could Win

HUNTSVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The father of Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today his famous son hasn't discussed his political plans with him.

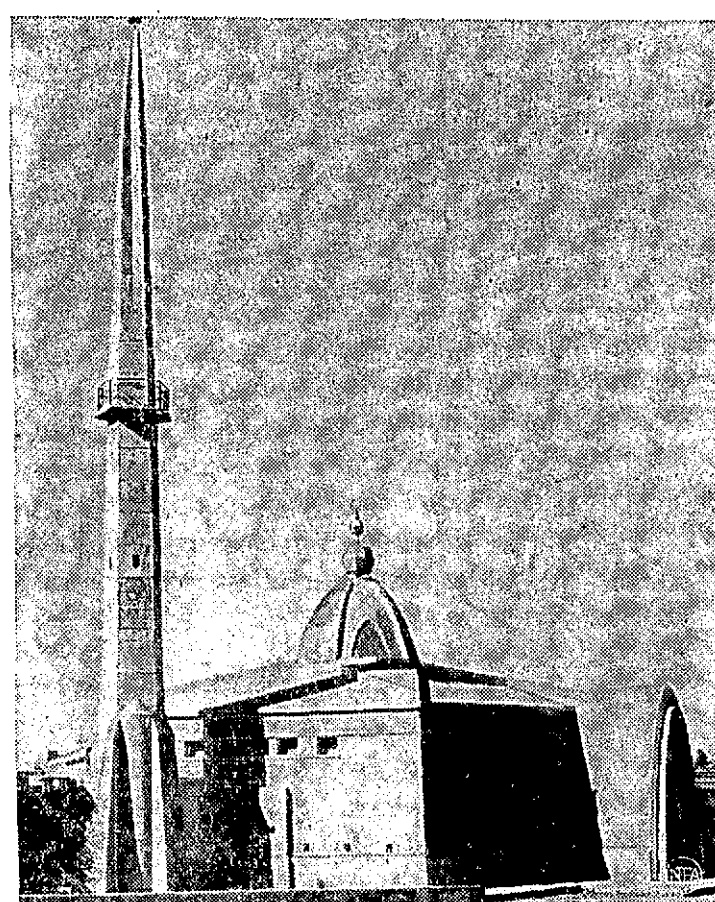

"But I think he could win if he tried for a fourth term," Sam Faubus, 72, of nearby Combs, told a newsmen in an interview.

Gov. Faubus has said he probably will reveal his plans about mid-March.

Asked what he thought of talk about the governor being a possible presidential candidate this year, the elder Faubus replied: "He has enough sense not to try for that right now."

So far only one candidate has formally entered the 1960 Arkansas gubernatorial race — Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett. Sam Faubus was asked how he regarded Bennett as a possible gubernatorial opponent for his son, and replied he thought there would be "no contest" between them on at least one point, that of racial integration.

"They both think alike on that," he said, and declined further comment.

THE LADY AND THE GIANT

By Clarence Budington Kelland

THE STORY: Madam Cissie Janeway, a rich and mysterious newcomer to Syracuse, is honored at a reception at the home of Banker Watts. Orrin Applegate, a young lawyer retained by Madam Janeway, and Lottie Fox are among the guests. Lottie, who had reserved judgment on the older woman now seems to adore her.

CHAPTER VIII
Lottie seemed wholly unaware of me, as she was the center of an eager group—a group, if truth must be told, that was as large as that surrounding Madam Janeway. I joined the circle paying homage to the older woman, and she smiled at me graciously.

"I've great confidence in Mr. Applegate," she said so that all might hear. "He is to handle my legal affairs. I find him very astute in such matters."

That changed the attitude of the group materially, and more than one of them eyed me with some envy, for it is a very desirable thing to be a legal advisor to so wealthy and highly connected a person as Madam Janeway. Mr. Watts pushed his way to her side, accompanied by a stronger, a man with lolly-far-head, shrewd eyes, hair that covered the upper half of his chest. He was wearing a black stock with a jeweled pin, and his manner seemed a bit pompous, though not disagreeable so.

"Madam Janeway," Mr. Watts said, "may I present a gentleman newly arrived from New York whose name may not be wholly unknown to you—Mr. Phineas T. Barnum?"

"Indeed I know the name of Mr. Barnum. We are grateful to him for bringing to us the exquisite voice of Jenny Lind," she exclaimed.

"And the less exquisite voice of Gen. Tom Thumb," the great showman answered with a broad grin.

"And what, sir, brings you to our little city?" Madam asked. "Curiosity, ma'am. A hint of the strange and marvelous. Where the seemingly miraculous manifests itself, there you will find P. T. Barnum. If it is something people will pay to see, then, ma'am, I must be the one to exhibit it. I suffer no rivals, ma'am. If the world wants to see or hear or to admire a thing, then it must come to my museum to marvel at it."

"Of course," she said agreeably. "Naturally, you will have come to investigate the Cardiff Giant."

"That is indeed so. Have you seen the monster, ma'am?" "In all its mysterious glory," she smiled.

"In the morning," Mr. Barnum said in his pompous way, "I shall proceed to the spot to see with

See No Postal, Gas Tax Hike as Requested

WASHINGTON (AP)—Reaction indicated today President Eisenhower will not get the postal rate and gasoline tax increases proposed in his new budget.

Democrats generally expressed doubt that a $4,184,000,000 surplus estimated by Eisenhower will materialize. Republicans said whether it does will depend on actions taken by the Democratic-controlled Congress.

The usual forecasts of cuts in foreign aid and some other items were offset by comments of others that projected spending won't meet the nation's needs.

Members of both parties indicated they don't believe Congress will be willing to raise postal rates or increase the gasoline tax.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the assistant Democratic leader, said Eisenhower was correct in predicting that the prospective surplus will melt away if new revenues are not added.

"It is my belief that Congress will not agree to these proposals," Mansfield said. He said Eisenhower's statement "that it may be possible to have tax reductions in 1961 'is more political than practical'."

Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) called the predicted surplus highly uncertain, adding that "much of it is based on a philosophy of not doing things rather than doing things."

Chairman Overton Brooks (D-La.) of the House Space Committee, characterized Eisenhower's proposed 600-million-dollar outlay for space exploration as "a distinct disappointment."

Both Chairman Clarence Cannon (D-Mo.) and Rep. John Taber (R-N.Y.), senior Republican on the House Appropriations Committee, predicted Congress will cut Eisenhower's figures.

Sen. E. L. Bartlett (D-Alaska) said it was "a paper surplus in an election-year budget."

Sen. Roman L. Hruska (R-Neb.), discounting chances of new postal and gasoline revenues, predicted the surplus would shrink accordingly.

Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) took a general cutting approach.

enities are not added. "It is my belief that Congress will not agree to these proposals," Mansfield said. He said Eisenhower's statement "that it may be possible to have tax reductions in 1961 'is more political than practical'."
